ABOUT US

G & N Solutions - "G&N," is a company led by Gary Eland. We specialize in providing exceptional solutions tailored to meet your specific requirements. From on-site packaging to container packing, cargo strapping, and lashing, we've got you covered every step of the way. Our team is skilled in crafting custom crates and pallets, e nsuring that your valuable cargo is secure and protected during transit. With a wide range of premium packaging materials at our disposal, we guarantee the highest quality standards for your goods. Trust G&N Solutions to deliver excellence in packaging, safeguarding your items with precision and care.

At G&N Solutions, our ongoing commitment involves continuous product enhancement and the introduction of new offerings to cater to the evolving needs of the packaging and strapping industry.

Beyond our proficiency in producing seals, buckles, strapping materials, and tools, we are also actively engaged in the importation of various other tools. In addition to manual hand tools, our comprehensive range extends to pneumatic, automatic, semi-automatic tools, and associated products. Our inventory encompasses a variety of strapping options, including PET strapping, high-tensile strapping, black-painted and waxed strapping, polywoven, polypropylene strapping, as well as stainless steel strapping and buckles.

To enhance our service and better serve our esteemed clientele, G&N Solutions maintains an inventory of spare parts for all locally manufactured and imported tools. This strategic approach ensures that we can efficiently uphold and service our product offerings.

Strapping

Steel Strapping - Oscillated

Oscillated Steel Strapping Special High Tension band painted, or gun blue and waxed steel strapping.

Steel Strapping - Ribbon Wound

Ribbon Wound Steel Strapping - Blue or Black painted and waxed steel strapping, this strapping differs from standard bright steel strapping, not only for its higher tensile strength but also for its better elongation.

PET Strapping - Polyester

PET Strapping Polyester has a higher tensile strength than P/P (Polypropylene) strapping and its characteristics are long life, resistant to ultra violet light and weatherproof. One of the great advantages is the high elasticity allowing the strap to remain tense even if the package shrinks after being strapped.

Polypropylene Strapping

Polypropylene strapping has many applications on manual and automatic machines. This strapping can even be used in the food industry, for bricks or newspapers.

Polywoven

Polywoven Strapping is made from high tensile polyester textiles woven into a very flexible and user friendly retensionable product. It is resistant to all weather conditions and UV light. It has a high linear system and capacity to absorb shocks during transport. It is suitable to be used from the lightest application to the lashing of loads.

Plastic Polypropylene Twine

Plastic Polypropylene Twine Lightweight, synthetic, polypropylene fiber provides strength and maximum feet per pound. Dispenses from poly wrapped coreless tubes,

Lashing Belt

Lashing Belt. These belts are utilized widely to secure cargo in containers and railcars. Its superior performance against harsh weather conditions made it the most suited products for both domestic and international shipping. Excludes Lashing Buckles available on request.

Stretch Film - Cast Pallet Wrap

Available in different sizes and thickness
